The McKinley Dragon 1958

This year the student body of McKinley High took residence in a new $1,500,000 school building. The provision of this structure can be looked upon as a physical tribute of the confidence, faith, and hope that the adults of Niles have in the future of their community and its youth.

And so it is, with a deep and humble appreciation, that the Class of 1958 shares with the reader a pictorial account of the first year at New McKinley.

SOUND FOUNDATION

One requirement for successful construction of ideas in our design for improved learning rested with keeping the working force informed. The basic responsibility for this accomplishment was delegated to the student press and pupil announcement service.

MACHINES

Daytime hours from eight-thirty Monday morning until three-thirty on Friday, one finds McKinley's classrooms a beehive of student activity. In addition to the academic subjects, such as biology, students follow their vocational interests in many directions such as shop, home economics, band, or art. The library provides reference materials on many subjects.

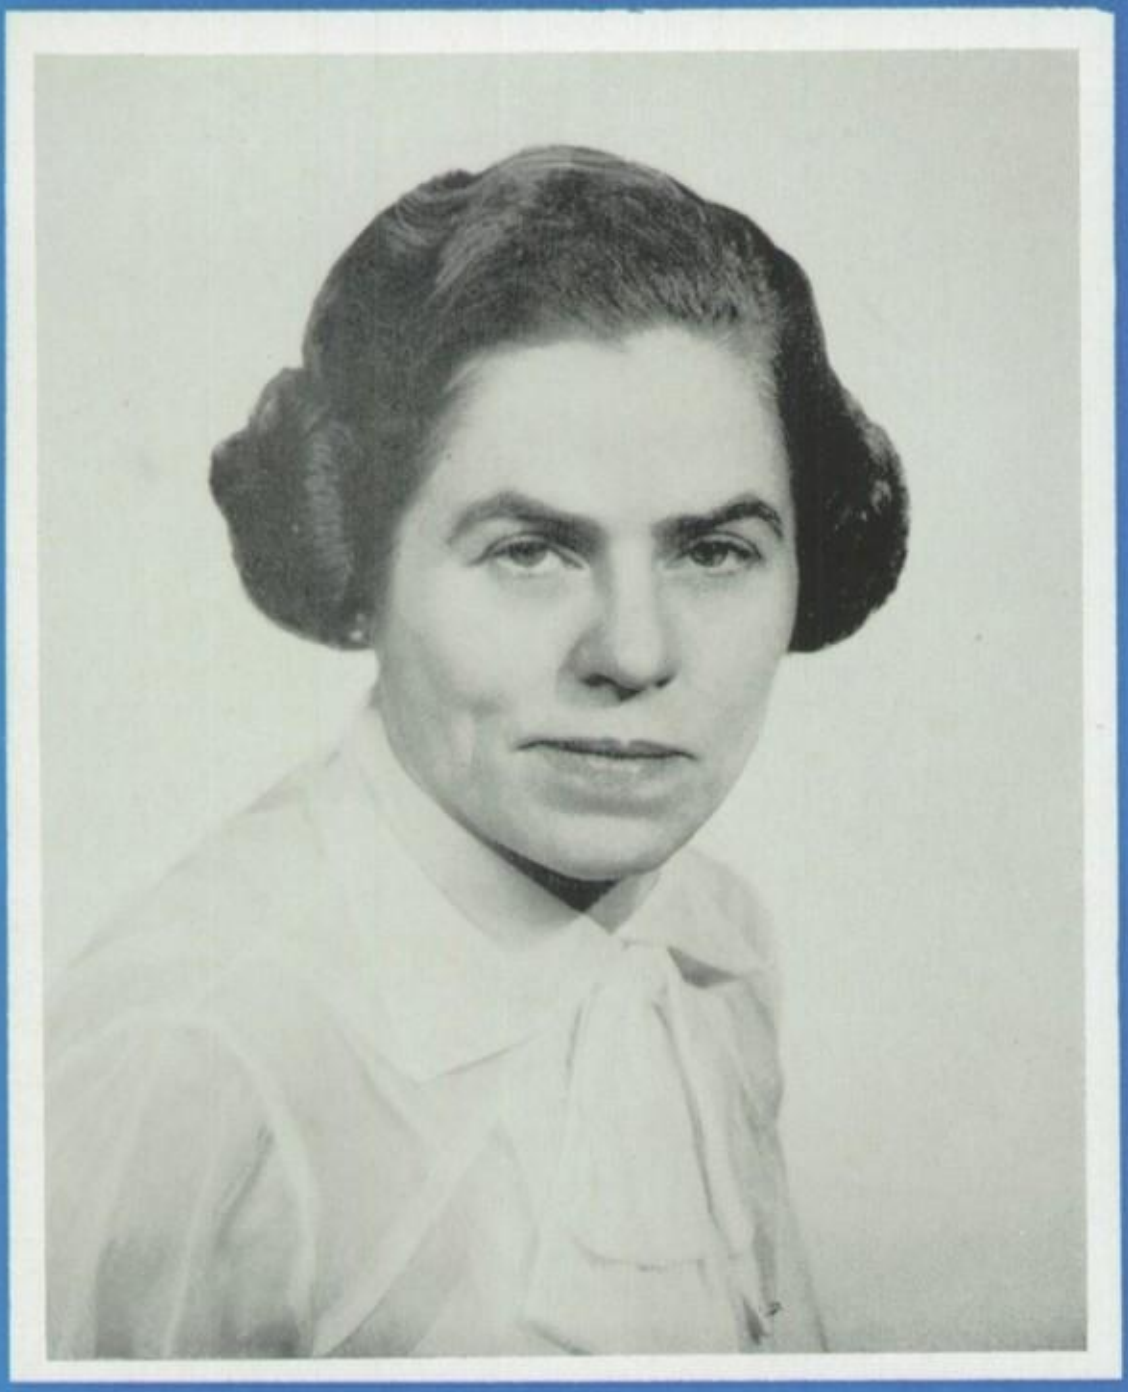
Dedication...



Mrs. Anna H. Clark
Senior Class Advisor

As we strive to follow our blueprint for education, we must acknowledge the help given us by Mrs. Anna H. Clark, Senior class advisor. Acting as co-ordinator of the job of helping the 190 members of the Senior class acquire a sound education, her assistance has been invaluable. And we, of the class of 1958, would like to express our heartfelt gratitude to Mrs. Clark as we dedicate this yearbook to her.

Self trust is the first secret of success.

A TYPICAL DAY FOR OUR ADVISOR

One phase of education is ending for the class of 1958. For some it will be the last of their formal schooling; others will go on to higher levels of education.

As sophomores, we began our high school life in a typical manner, when Mrs. Anna H. Clark assumed the role of class sponsor. In our junior year we proceeded with a class play, the annual sale of Christmas cards, and the big event - Prom, which we put on for the class of '57.

Now we are seniors, looking ahead to graduation and the future, hoping it will prove as rewarding as our high school days. For our high school days have been happy times; good times; times that can never be forgotten.

Yearbook Queen...

Miss Darla Lancaster

Incorporating a new feature into the 1958 Dragon, we wrote to Bob Cummings of Hollywood, California, a movie and television star, to ask his help in picking our first yearbook queen.

Mr. Cummings graciously accepted; and we set about the business of selecting five senior girls to run for this position. This we did by having the entire McKinley High School Student body vote on eleven senior girls.

The five girls who were selected to run for the position of yearbook queen were: Janet Mohn, Patty Snyder, Carol Menz. Yvonne Abdoo, and Darla Lancaster.

The production staff of the 1958 Dragon would like to extend their thanks to Mr. Cummings, the faculty, and student body of our high school for their co-operation on this project.

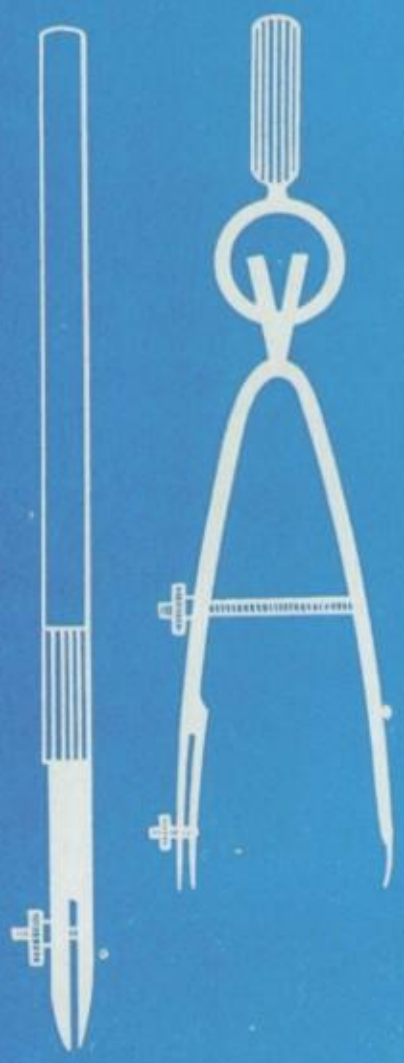
Foreword



In this yearbook, the 1958 Dragon, we, the staff, have tried to present the "Blueprint for Better Education" which is followed at McKinley High School. This book is meant to depict the different phases of school life throughout the school year.

As the architects followed blueprints in constructing this building, so the purpose of an education is the foundation in our blueprint for life. With a good foundation we can become responsible citizens, part of the blueprint for a better America and a better world.

Our part as Seniors in this blueprint is finished. We present this annual to you, the reader, with a little sadness because it ends our year; but with happiness that we have done our best.

When we first entered McKinley High we were buried under the impression that life here was lacking the essentials of the 'true high school atmosphere.' We continued with this impression until one day someone led us, maybe even pushed us a little, to join and participate in student activities. Thus the saga of the student year began. We felt a bit guilty at times about letting our homework go for an afternoon or evening, while we crowded the time with committee meetings, Hi-Crier and Dragon deadlines, speech tournaments, music contests, impromptu parties, and the ever present problem of decorating for that big dance. But then, this is a memorable phase of 'high school life.'

For the pupils enrolled at NHS during the 1957-58 school term, the activity of the year provided surprised, rewarding moments, and disappointments. But as members of respective classes, by tradition, we took the events in stride making the most of them, and in our youthful manner looked optimistically to the future. The student body at NHS this year consisted of 288 Sophomores, 224 Juniors, and 194 Seniors.

Junior Class

With our first year of high school behind us, we entered our junior year with great plans in mind.

The highlight of our activities was the Junior-Senior Prom, but we enjoyed participating in money raising projects and planning our class party.

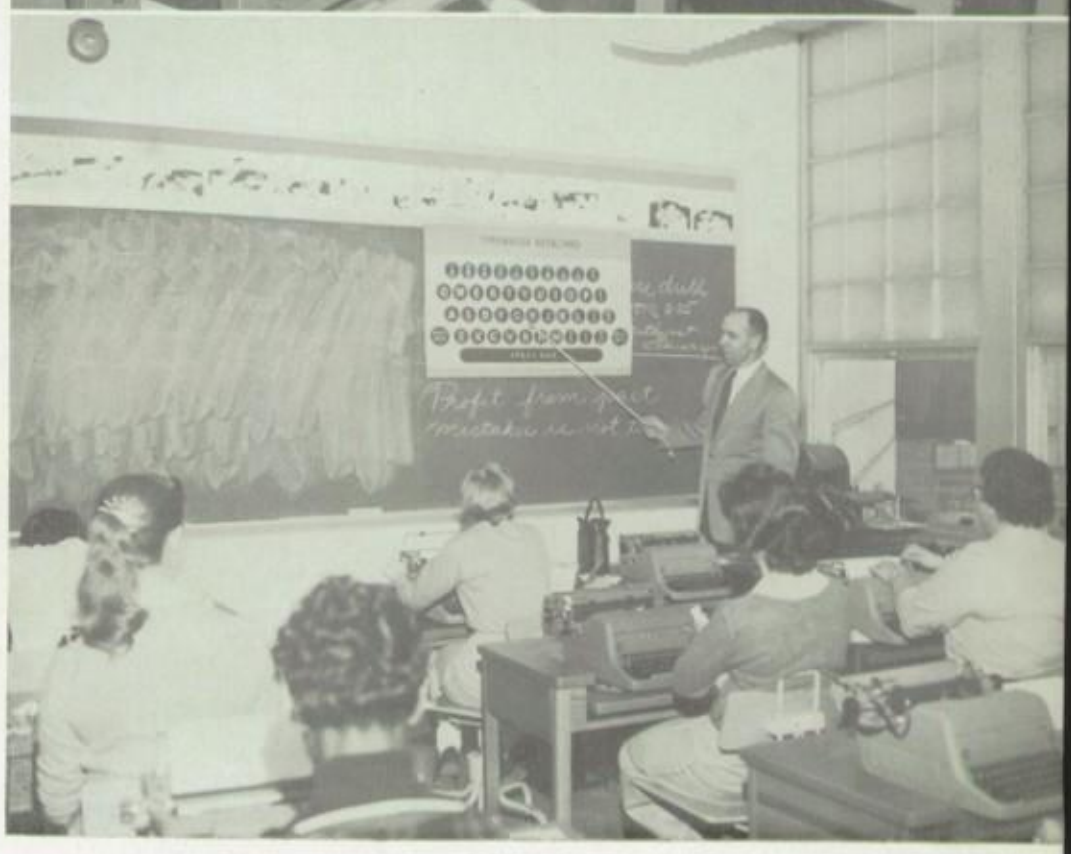
Strong Bodies Receive Emphasis in School

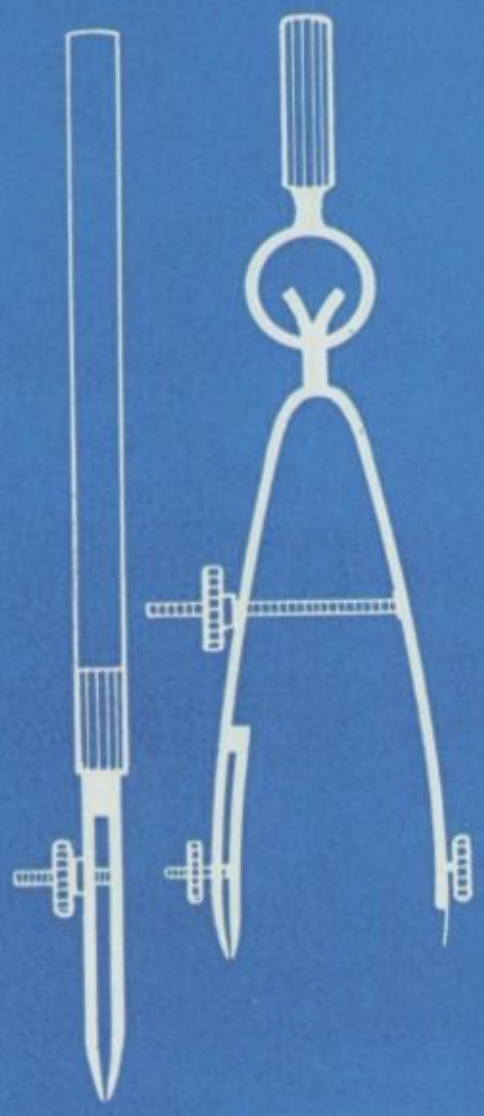
School Facilities Aid in Classroom Presentations

Basic to the curriculum at McKinley High School are the academic subjects taught in the general classrooms.

In addition to the regular academic courses offered at NHS are the vocational arts subjects. These include mechanical drawing, shop, and home economics.

A secretarial course for those pupils interested in this line of work is also available at McKinley High School. Here the standard commercial subjects are offered.





"We want a touchdown; we want a touchdown!" Often we screamed this phrase as we sat huddled together in the stands. Although our gridiron season was shortened by the 'flu bug' and we did not win all our games, we will never forget the dramatic moments supplied us by our varsity eleven. Basketball came and we packed into the new gymnasium to see an unpredictable, but crowd pleasing hardwood quint provide us with thrills and chills. We've seen better years and expect to see better ones to come, but an undefeated season is not the prime requisite. Sportsmanship and spirit are still way in the lead. These we had.

September 13 - Niles 12
Erie Prep 6

Climaxing 65 and 63 yard drives with scoring plays of two and eight yards, the Niles Red Dragons defeated Erie Prep, 12-6 at the local's Riverside Stadium tonight, in the Red and Blue initial outing of the 1957 gridiron campaign

Six Big Red and Blue Points.

September 20 - Niles 7
Farrell 27

After an evenly matched, scoreless first half of football, the Farrell High Steelers exploded for four touchdowns and three conversion points in the second segment of play to down the Red Dragons, 27-7 before a sparse crowd of hometown fans at Riverside Stadium tonight.

September 27 - Niles 12
Boardman 6

McKinley's initial efforts in Steel Valley Conference football competition for the current season concluded on a sweet note tonight when, paced by the break-away running of Senior Ron Ziegler, the Red and Blue smacked out a 12 to 6 victory over the Boardman High Spartans on the loser's gridiron.

October 4 - Niles 0
Campbell Memorial 31

Steel Valley Conference play for McKinley's Red Dragon gridiron machine was balanced out tonight at one and one for the season following a crushing 31 to 0 loss at the hands of an overpowering Memorial Red Devil aggregation before 3,500 spectators at Riverside Stadium.

October 11 - Niles 31
Austintown Fitch 12

Austintown's highly publicized pass-throwing threat was squelched in Niles tonight as the Red and Blue, behind a fleet-footed ground attack, smothered the Falcons, 32 to 12 to gain its second win in three encounters of Steel Valley Conference play.

October 18 - Niles - Struthers

Cancelled - Influenza Epidemic.

October 24 - Niles - Akron Ellett

Cancelled - Influenza Epidemic.

November 1 - Niles 7
Hubbard 7

Resuming gridiron competition after a two week lay-off because of an influenza outbreak, the NHS Red Dragon eleven battled to a 7 to 7 deadlock with the Hubbard High Eagles tonight on the local's football half-acre.

November 8 - Niles 19
Girard 7

With little regard for near gale force winds, the Niles McKinley football charges of Coach Joseph Bassett flattened their arch-rival, the Girard High Indians, 19 to 7 tonight to bring the curtain down on the 1957 grid season and finish with a 4 win, 2 loss and 1 tie record.

Jumpshot Good for Two.

Utilizing the new McKinley High School fieldhouse, the Red Dragons basketball quint provided many thrills for the local gentry during the past season. A trip to the Farrell Tourney was one of the highlights of the season for the Joseph Bassett coached squad. Niles' State Tournament hopes were short-lived when they ran into a tartar in the form of the Fitch Falcons in first round play at Youngstown.

Ah, Spring!; Ah, Track!

This spring the thoughts for some two dozen McKinley lads, turn not to love, but rather to the NHS' cinder oval.

For, from mid-March to the end of May, these local field and track praticipants, under the guidance of Head Coach Dominic Match, supply ample thrills for track meet fans. With a nine meet slate facing them this season, the Red and Blue Thinclads are sure to carry the NHS banner to lofty heights.

Editors

Editor-in-Chief

CAROLYN COATES

To coordinate a student publication, such as the Dragon, is a demanding task. This year the responsibility for the editing of our "Blueprint for Better Education" was delegated to Carolyn Coates. With the determination and industry peculiar to her personality, Carolyn and her staff made this book a reality.

Assistant Editor-in-Chief

KAYE GIBSON

Second in command in the construction of this book, The 1958 Dragon, was Kaye Gibson. Although Kaye's chief out-of-school activity is competitive swimming, she proved to be equally as adept in working with the printed page as she is with swimming.
